City of Monmouth Seeks Input on Housing from Residents, Workers

Why do you live in Monmouth or why do you choose to live elsewhere? Are you happy with your current housing? What kinds of housing should be available in the city in the future?

These are some of the questions the City of Monmouth would like residents and workers to answer on a survey it is conducting. The survey, intended for anyone living or working in Monmouth, will be available to complete online over the next several weeks. Copies also can be picked up at Monmouth City Hall. All responses will be held confidential and only summary information will be included in discussions that will be shared with the public at a later date.

“Monmouth has a variety of kinds of housing available, but perhaps not everyone who would like to live here can find what they are looking for,” said Lew Steinbrecher, City Administrator. “The City will use the information gained from the survey to develop strategies to bring additional quality housing to the community and plan for improvements that strengthen the area as a place to live.”

The Center for Governmental Studies at Northern Illinois University is assisting in conducting the survey. Take the survey by going to <http://bit.ly/COMstudy> or go to <http://bit.ly/COMstudies> for a Spanish language version. For additional information contact Lew Steinbrecher at 309-734-2141.
